DETAILED ACTION

Claims 16-20 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 07/10/08.

Note that in the response to the restriction requirement, Applicant elects group I, claims 1-15, with elected species for Y and an end unit in general.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6, and 8-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Luo et al of record on 1449.

The reference discloses a dendritic polymer having a branching structure including repeating units each having a branch portion, as in the claims (see Scheme 1) in that the claimed Y is elected species and the end moieties has not been mentioned, as in claims 1 and 14.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Luo et al.

The search has been done for the claimed electing end unit. However, no prior art has been found. The search is expanded to non-elected species such as thiophene unit, the first one in formula (I) wherein Ar4 is S.

The reference discloses a dendritic polymer having the claimed formula (1).

The disclosure of the reference differs from the instant claim 7 in that it does not disclose the elected end unit. However, the reference does disclose other unit, such as thiophene unit, the first formula in claim 7.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to select the thiophene unit to replace the elected unit, since they have been shown to be effective in a similar system and thus would have been expected to provide adequate results. There is no showing of unexpected results derived from said replacement.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-15 are** provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-11 of copending Application No. 10/521,846. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the difference is the instant claim 1 is the combination of claims 1 and 7 of co-pending application no- 10/521,846 and the instant claim 1 does not disclose that the repeating units are repeatedly linked through the divergent method or the convergent method, as disclosed in claim 1 of the reference.

Note that the claimed product by process is considered the claimed product by itself. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine claims 1 and 7 of the reference to form the instant claim 1 in the absence of a showing of unexpected results derived form said combination.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
